

Three Boys Admit Thefts From Truck, Autos; Much of Loot Recovered

Investigation By City Police Brings Admissions

A city police investigation of the ransacking of a number of automobiles and a confection truck in Harrisburg during the past three or four weeks has resulted in the admissions of thefts by three boys and the recovery of much of the loot, Chief of Police Ross Lane announced today.

During a part of the activities, candy and peanuts stolen and hidden by two boys were taken from the hiding place by three other boys and placed in another hiding place. It was this last act that "broke" the case. Somebody saw the boys hiding the candy and peanuts and called the police.

Lane said one boy was involved in all the thefts. Another was involved in the ransacking of most of the automobiles and a third was involved with the first boy in stealing from Clarence Aldridge's candy and peanut truck. The chief added that all the boys involved were around 13 years' old and that since they had been in no trouble with the police before, their names would not be divulged.

Boy Collects Reward

The first boy admitted ransacking an automobile belonging to J. V. Haverton of Peoria in up-town Harrisburg. Haverton reported to police after the incident that car compass, gloves, cigar case, Shafter pen and pencil set, an address book, staple set and flashlight were taken.

All items have been recovered except the pen and cigar case, Lane said.

The same boy admitted taking a brief case and a battery lantern from the J. A. McGuire auto at the McGuire home on South Webster. When McGuire offered a reward in a newspaper story the next day, the boy took it to the McGuire home, said he found it in an alley, and collected a reward of $2. The lantern has been recovered by police.

He also admitted stealing a camera flash attachment from the auto of Ronnie Doerge, local photographer, from its parking place uptown. This item has been returned to Doerge.

Loot at Police Station

This lad admitted to officers that he and another boy, who also admitted the thefts, ransacked a number of automobiles. Much of the loot, which includes several flashlights, is now at the police station and persons who have had items stolen are asked by Lane to go to the city hall and see if they are there.

Two of the boys admitted they entered the Clarence Aldridge truck at the rear of the Harrisburg funeral home last Saturday and took a quantity of candy and peanuts. This they hid on the roof of the vacant building that formerly housed the Vinard shoe repair shop on South Main street.

Another lad, who was not involved in the thefts, told two other boys he knew where the stuff had been hidden; so the trio Saturday night took bags and removed the candy and peanuts.

Monday morning they were spotted hiding the loot in an out-building on South Main street and police were called. The candy and peanuts were found.

Lane said he told the boy who took the $2 reward money from McGuire to return it to him and tell him that he stole the briefcase.

Jury Recesses; Will Meet Friday

The September circuit court grand jury, still in session, reconvened yesterday morning following a lengthy recess, and recessed at 5:30 p. m. to convene again Friday.

The grand jury reportedly heard a report from the Belleville auditing firm, Rice and Bedel, which has been auditing county books the past several weeks, and heard evidence into other matters.

It was learned that Joe Azar, said to have been the operator of the Mariner's club about three miles east of Harrisburg on Route 13, was subpoenaed and appeared before the grand jury.

The grand jury for the December term of circuit court will convene at 9 a. m. next Monday.

Durham Hardware Store with Doubled Floor Space to Hold Grand Opening

The Durham Hardware store at 111 North Main street has doubled its floor space and is celebrating with a grand opening of its new self-service store Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The store, which for years has been at the 111 North Main location, took the adjacent room in the Rose building vacated by the Limerick Finance Co. when it moved to West Poplar street to double the size of the hardware business. An archway has been cut between the two rooms.

The entire store has been remodeled. New asphalt flooring has been laid and fluorescent lighting installed.

Also installed are the latest type Flexorama fixtures which provide for self-service by customers and for more than twice the original display space in the store.

Sentence Mother For Killing Daughter, Son

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — A mother who shot two of her children to death because "she thought she was a failure" has been sentenced to 30 years in prison.

Mrs. Dorothy Middleton, 46, was found guilty Tuesday in the deaths of her daughter, Judith, 12, a junior high school honor student, and her son, Thomas, 18.

Thomas recently had dropped out of the Air Force Academy and enrolled at the University of Wisconsin as a dentistry student.

Following the shooting on Oct. 13, Mrs. Middleton attempted to take her own life by drinking a mixture of lye and carbolic acid. She has been hospitalized since then.

Ex-Teacher New WAC Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Col. Mary L. Milligan, new director of the Women's Army Corps, said today girls in uniform are "no different" than civilian working girls.

And she said most men who once didn't think so now accept the fact.

Col. Milligan, formerly an Edgewood, Pa., schoolteacher, said with a smile that women in khaki may develop certain habits—like strict military neatness—to a "greater degree" than some of their civilian sisters. But she said there are "no major differences."

The Army named Col. Milligan Tuesday to succeed Col. Irene O. Galloway as head of the nation's 9,000 women soldiers. Col. Galloway has headed the corps for four years.

The new WAC chief, a trim and attractive blue-eyed woman of 45, received her commission in the WAC's first officers' graduation class in 1942. She will leave a post with the continental army command at Ft. Monroe, Va., to take over her new duties.

Democratic Leaders Challenge Roles of Johnson and Rayburn

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top leaders of the Democratic Party are scuffling for a grip on the party's steering wheel.

The immediate fight is over the course the party will steer with its slimly held control of the 85th Congress next year.

All hands want to keep that control in 1958 and win the White House in 1960, but they disagree over how to do it.

Masons Repeat Success of Past Masters' Night

The record of previous successful Past Masters' nights at the Harrisburg Masonic lodge was repeated Tuesday night.

More than 100 members of Harrisburg Lodge No. 325, A. F. & A. M., and visitors attended a dinner in the temple dining room at 6 o'clock and ceremonies following in the lodge honoring Richard C. Davenport, past Grand Master and present Grand Secretary of Illinois Masonic Grand lodge, and 21 other past masters of Harrisburg lodge.

State Senator Glen O. Jones, a member of Raleigh lodge, made the address of the evening, pointing out the high place Masonry has held and still holds as an American institution.

"Freemasonry is like a stream flowing through the world for many centuries," he said. "It has been a cradle of liberty, a stronghold of independence, a rallying point for free men."

"It is a matter of great pride that every tyrant, every dictator who has ever arisen to power has first destroyed Freemasonry, because dictators and tyrants cannot survive as long as men and Masons meet in a free atmosphere."

District Deputies Introduced

In the formal lodge ceremonies, Mr. Davenport and Everett N. Stricklin, district deputy Grand Master for the 95th district of Illinois were received officially.

Other district deputies introduced were: Ira DeZouché, Wayne City, Lambert Patton, Cave-in-Rock and Charles Tinsley, Zeigler.

Recognized also were Grand Lodge officials and committeemen: William Biggers, Deputy Grand Secretary, C. N. Stille, Benton, Frank Gladson, Du Quoin, George E. Anderson and E. Bishop Hill.

Kiwanians Meet At Kresge's, Tour Expanded Store

Members of the Kiwanis club last night held their weekly dinner meeting at Kresge's store and following a delicious meal enjoyed a tour of the vastly expanded store under the direction of Charles Shingler, store manager and member of the club.

Mr. Shingler briefly outlined the history of the Kresge company which has grown to about 700 stores and of the Kresge Foundation which contributes large sums to charity and educational and religious institutions.

The expansion of the local Kresge store has doubled its floor space and tripled the counter space, Mr. Shingler stated.

The expansion program is evidence of the company's faith in the future of the Harrisburg store and in business prospects for this community, Mr. Shingler stated.

Eddie Bowles and Donnie Beggs, members of the Kiwanis-sponsored Key club at the HTHS, were guests of the club at last night's meeting.

Ronnie Doerge, club president, announced the board of directors would meet this evening at 6 o'clock at Schnierle's cafe.

Official Canvass Shows Stratton Margin, 36,877; Ike's 847,645

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton won re-election on Nov. 6 by 36,877 votes, one of the slimmest margins ever in an Illinois gubernatorial race, the official canvass showed today.

In contrast, President Eisenhower defeated Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson by 847,645 votes and all other Republican statewide office candidates won by at least 224,000 votes.

Stratton received 2,171,786 votes to 2,134,909 for Democrat Richard B. Austin. The governor carried 73 counties to 29 for Austin.

Austin took a lead of 145,099 over Stratton in Cook County. But Stratton piled up a plurality of 181,976 downstate.

President Eisenhower carried 97 of the state's 102 counties and got 2,623,327 votes to 1,775,682 for Stevenson statewide. Stevenson carried only Madison, Macoupin, Union, St. Clair and Gallatin counties.

Mr. Eisenhower received 1,330,104 votes downstate and 1,293,223 in Cook County. Stevenson got 797,861 votes downstate and 877,821 in Cook County.

U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen defeated Democrat Richard Stenger by 357,469 votes and carried 88 counties, including Cook, to 14 for Stengel.

Top vote getter on the GOP state ticket was Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter who defeated Democrat David F. Mallett by 600,277 votes and carried 89 counties to 13 for Mallett.

Smallest plurality next to Stratton's was that of State Auditor elect Elbert S. Smith, who beat Democrat Michael J. Howlett by 224,522 votes.

The statewide totals were 2,217,229 for Smith and 1,992,707 for Howlett.

Blast Follows Fiery Crash Of Train, Truck

Welding Torches By Wrecking Crew Set Off Explosion

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — Two railroad workers were killed and seven others were injured today when a diesel locomotive fuel tank exploded as they tried to remove the charred bodies of three men killed in a fiery rail crossing collision 15 hours earlier.

The second explosion occurred as railroad wrecking crews used welding torches to cut apart the twisted metal of twin diesels and a gasoline transport truck which crashed and burned late Tuesday.

It hiked the death toll in the accident to five.

The second blast killed George Marquardt, 56, Lacrosse, Ind., and Otto Herman Keehn, 48, Wanatah, Ind.

Authorities said a fuel tank on one of the wrecked locomotives blew up while rail employees swarmed over the fire-blackened debris, trying to clear the blocked rails and salvage the bodies of the earlier dead.

The tank, described as a container about 2 by 10 feet in diameter, was hurled 40 feet into the side of a derailed boxcar by the force of the explosion.

Warnings had been issued that inflammables and explosives in the damaged rail cars threatened new blasts while firemen fought the flames and curious spectators watched.

The truck driver and the engineer and fireman of a 65-car Chesapeake & Ohio freight train were trapped and killed in the wreckage when the truck exploded in a ball of flame.

The diesel engine and 10 cars of the train were derailed and burst into flame when the truck rammed the freight late Tuesday at a crossing two miles west of Michigan City.

The dead were train Engineer Roy Powers, 56; fireman Harold Johnson, 40, both of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Charley Wilson, 50, Mishawaka, Ind., the truck driver.

Hungary Offers Amnesty But Surge Continues

VIENNA (AP) — Hungary's puppet government offered an amnesty today to the 92,000 Hungarian refugees from Communist terror if they return to their homeland by the end of this year.

The offer was broadcast over Budapest Radio to a nation still crippled by a bitter general strike. The thousands of refugees crammed into emergency camps in Austria received the offer cynically, with no thought of accepting it.

Radio Budapest, citing the government organ Nep Szabadsag, said the amnesty law had been approved by the government of Soviet-sponsored Premier Janos Kadar. It said the text of the decree would be published "shortly."

Kadar obviously hoped to play on the traditional homesickness of Hungarians who have left the land of the Magyars. Most of the refugees in Austria were anxious not to move too far away in hopes they could return if conditions change in Hungary.

But the surge of refugees into Austria continued. In the past 24 hours, another 4,800 crossed the Austro-Hungarian frontier.

Course of Moderation

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

As President Eisenhower begins shaping his legislative program for the 85th Congress, some prospects for the new session are already clear.

There is unlikely to be either repeal or major revision of the Taft-Hartley labor law, though the Democratic party now controlling Congress officially favors repeal and the President wants revision.

The fact is that a strong coalition of southern Democrats and conservative Republicans wants the law left largely as it is. Chances of overturning this coalition seem scant.

Similarly, the votes evidently are lacking to reinstate the old high rigid farm price supports.
Democratic leaders have called for. Effort will be made for the record's sake, but signs point to continued reliance on flexible supports and the soil bank program aimed at cutting overproduction.

The outlook for really big tax reduction is poor. The heightened international peril appears to foreshadow requests for bigger defense spending, which alone may eat up most if not all of any projected surplus.

The 84th Congress settled the highway issue by voting a big program, but left unresolved the matters of aid to schools and broader medical assistance. These latter should figure prominently as battlegrounds in 1957.

Both parties are heavily committed to lending federal help for the construction of desperately needed new schools. In the past the program has foundered partly on religious and racial obstacles, partly on economic. Pressure for enactment of some kind of plan will be hard to resist this time.

To a lesser extent this may also be true of new plans to help build additional hospitals and give Americans some protection against the burdens of heavy medical expense.

Again, both parties have urged more aid to small business and enlarged programs for this purpose may emerge next year.

In the field of power development, the election provided no clear mandate for the public power proposals of leading Democrats.
The most likely prospect is for a conservative course leaving wide room for private activity.

The net effect may be, then, a cautious enlargement of federal welfare operations, stepped-up de-

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
British - American Relations
Drift From Bad To Worse;
Allied Diplomats Aren't Consulting Anymore; Ike Declines To See Australian Foreign Minister.

WASHINGTON — Relations between the United States and its old allies, the French and British, have drifted from bad to worse during the last two weeks.
They are even more frigid than appears on the surface.

The drift has been accompanied by an almost complete blackout on usual diplomatic discussions.
American diplomats just aren't talking to French and British diplomats to any great extent any more.

For years, no important moves were made by the United States without careful advance discussion with our two chief allies. But last week there were no talks, no conferences, as the United States proceeded to rap the French and British over the knuckles by demanding that their troops get out of Suez "forthwith."

This failure to consult results from two facts.

No. 1 — Is the fact that the French and British attacked Egypt without consulting the United States.

No. 2 — American foreign policy today is being operated largely from Key West. Thus it's difficult for the French and British fense outlays, but a careful reining of these programs to keep them at levels which avoid major deficit financing.

The election results suggest this moderate path will suit most Americans.

ambassadors to go down to Florida to consult.

In New York, the British foreign minister, Selwyn Lloyd, is available for consultation with U.
S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge at the United Nations. But British officials said there have been no talks about anything fundamental. Lodge is cordial but has not taken the British foreign minister into his confidence.

REMOTE CONTROL

In Washington, foreign affairs are in the hands of acting Secretary Herbert Hoover, Jr., whose knowledge of foreign affairs is meagre and whose job in the State Department is that of administrative housekeeper. There have been some talks with minor officials, but they have been inconsequential.

Thus U. S. foreign policy today is dictated by remote control from John Foster Dulles in Key West, administered by a green acting secretary in Washington, Mr.
Hoover, and finally ok'd by a sympathetic but second-hand executive, the President himself.

The manner in which the British have been shunted to one side is illustrated by the trip of Richard Casey, Australian foreign minister, to Washington. Casey is one of the top leaders of his country, probably will end up as Australian prime minister. Despite that, he was unable to get an appointment with President Eisenhower.

Many of the foreign ministers and prime ministers now attending the UN assembly in New York have been invited to the White House. But the Australian foreign minister from some unexplained reason was given the cold shoulder.

He ended up talking to Hoover and to Deputy Under-Secretary Robert Murphy instead. They told him in no uncertain terms that British troops would have to get out of Suez. Casey pointed out that the handful of UN troops from small countries would be at the mercy of the Egyptians, and urged that troops from stronger countries such as Canada and New Zealand be included in the UN force.

Hoover and Murphy said no.
The Australian foreign minister whereby French and British troops be taken into the UN police force.
Again Hoover and Murphy said no.

The Australian flew back to New York. That was about the last effort the British have made to argue with American officials at a top level.

POLICY BY PIQUE

Allied diplomats describe American foreign policy as now one of pique — pique at the French and British for entering Suez without consulting Washington.

They blame the pique chiefly on Secretary Dulles. Even from his sickbed in Walter Reed hospital he vetoed plans for a big three French, British and American conference; also he vetoed oil for London and Paris on credit until British and French troops were withdrawn. He is sticking to that policy now that he is at Key West.

Herbert Hoover, Jr., is also blamed for the present crackdown on the British and French because of his longtime policy of leaning over backward to protect Saudi Arabian oil. French and British diplomats don't forget that Hoover's company, Union Oil, has close tie-ups with Gulf Oil which imports most of its product from Saudi Arabia.

All-in-all, the Western alliance which has weathered all kinds of stress and strain is at the lowest point since the days when Sir
Neville Chamberlain appeased Hitler.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

For the love of money is the root of all evil. — 1 Timothy 6:10.
Money is a tool not an end in itself. You can use that tool to educate worthy youth, to help build hospitals and churches to God's great glory and praise, to relieve hunger and suffering. God wants you to be well clothed and warm too.

Day of the Outlaw

By Lee Wells

Copyright 1955, by Lee Wells. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: An outlaw pack, strained by inner dissension, is isolated by mud in Bitter, Wyo. The badmen have taken over the town, seized guns and murdered one man. One outlaw, Tex Darrow, has recognized Vivian McLearn as an old friend from Wichita. Later Vivian asks Dan to accompany her home. She is worried about Ava Rikes, widow of the bartender, murdered by the outlaws.

XVII

Dan shook his head. "It don't make sense. Tex's partner killed Tommy, her own husband." Vivian came to the sofa and sat down. "Ava and I both lived the same life, in a way. But Tommy Rikes came along and Ava married him. He brought her here, but Ava was running from something just as I was. She didn't love Tommy and she hated Bitter. She took it out on him. She felt trapped here and it was Tommy's fault. Maybe it was, but Ava had something I never had. Tommy was crazy in love with her." "You could tell it," Dan agreed. "But Ava didn't care," Vivian said heavily. "Dan, if this thing hadn't come up, Ava would have left Tommy in six months." "And now Tex," Dan said, pursuing her train of thought. "Now there's Tex," she agreed.

"It's made to order for him. He'll promise to take her out of here, he'll promise her the big towns, the excitement and all the things she's wanted," Vivian's lips curled. "Of course, Ava will have to make her payment ahead of time. Then Tex will ride out when he's tired and leave her. You know what the town would do to Ava then, Dan. Tex knows it, but he don't care. That's his way. I know. And I've been paying for it for years." "What can I do?" he asked. "What can anyone do? Bruhn's gang holds all the face cards and the joker, Vivian."

Her head came up and she swung to him, eager. "Would you do something, if you had the chance?"

He smiled. "I've been trying to find some way to hit those renegades. I wish I had the chance."

"Wait."

She ran from the room. Her steps faded swiftly and Dan paced to the window, frowning, wondering what Vivian had in mind. He turned when she came into the room. Dan saw the gun in her hand and his jaw dropped.

"Where did you get that?" "I've had it since . . . the old days. I've kept it well hidden. Here . . . use it."

Dan took the gun. He held it, felt its balance, his eyes alight. He shoved it in his holster, delighted to feel the old familiar weight on his hip again. Then he sobered and slowly handed it back to her. "Keep it awhile," he said and she stared, not understanding. "No. I'm not afraid to use it, but I don't want any of those renegades to find it on me. I'll come back for it the minute we've made our plans."

He thrust it into her hands, picked up his hat and started toward the door, but Vivian blocked his way. "Dan, what do you think of me now?" She made a small, pitiful gesture. He placed his fingers under her chin and lifted her head. His voice deepened.

"It makes no difference. You know that."

She stepped back. "But it must, Dan. I've been an angel, though hard times can force a person to do strange things. I met Tex in Wichita. I should have known his kind, but he fooled me. Later I drifted into Colorado and then finally came here to Bitter. I thought I could start life new. But . . . the past catches up with you, I reckon."

He smiled, sensing her distress. "This changes nothing. You're Vivian McLearn, still a woman I'm mighty proud to know."

He dropped his hands, smiled and walked to the door. As he turned the knob, her arms went about his neck and she pulled his head down. Her lips met his, leaving Dan to stare in amazement at her. She opened the door, smiling softly.

"You've things to do, Dan Murdock. I'll expect you back for the gun."

Dan stepped outside and she closed the door. He still felt the tingle of Vivian's kiss. It shook him. He remembered Paula's hurt look when she had seen him with Vivian.

Paula swung around from the desk. She looked hard at him and her chin lifted ever so slightly before she turned back to the desk. Dan came up to the counter and waiter. The silence grew between them. He finally spoke awkwardly, studying his blunt fingers.

"Where's Phil?" "I don't know," she said shortly. Dan shifted his weight.

"Mad because of—"

"Mad!" she echoed cutting him short and looked up in pretended surprise. "What should I be mad about? You can walk with whom you please."

He grinned and she was all the more angry that she had trapped herself. Dan's smile vanished.

"She'd been visiting Ava, and these renegades are loose. I figured—"

"You did the right thing, Mr. Murdock," she said quickly. "I'm really not interested and it's none of my business."

"But I don't want you to think," he floundered and then became suddenly angry. His words grew gruff and slightly edged. "At Ava's, Vivian learned something about this gang, and she can help us. I have to find Phil."

"He's around town somewhere," Paula said stiffly.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Black of Mehlville, Mo., formerly of this city, and is the grandson of the Rev. and Mrs. Pearl Orr, Harrisburg, and Mr. and Mrs. George Black of Carrier Mills. He is the great-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Armari Tucker, Shawneetown, and Mr. and Mrs. George Orr, Eldorado. There's no reason why he shouldn't be a "spoiled" baby with that number of living grandparents and great-grandparents!

Celtics Trip Hawks, 102-90

By United Press
Bob Cousy, perhaps the slickest player in the National Basketball Association, is up to his old tricks these days and the Boston Celtics are threatening to run away from the opposition as a result.

The gifted play-maker chalked up 27 points Tuesday night to lead the Celtics to their sixth straight victory—102-90, over the St. Louis Hawks. His sharp ball handling and playmaking controlled the tempo of the game almost from the outset.

The victory was Boston's ninth in 12 starts and enabled the Celtics to keep a four-game lead over the second-place New York Knickerbockers in the Eastern Division.

New York snapped a three-game losing streak by defeating the Fort Wayne Pistons, 105-98; the Rochester Royals beat the Syracuse Nationals, 90-82, and the Minneapolis Lakers downed the Philadelphia Warriors, 113-98.

U. S. Displeased At Pro-Soviet Moves by Syria

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has expressed its dis-pleasure over a number of pro-Russian moves taken by the Syri-an government, officials said to-day.

The most recent complaint was registered during the Hungarian revolt when Syria censored all mention of the dramatic uprising from the U. S. information bulle-tin distributed in Syria. Ameri-can diplomats in Damascus told the Syrian government such ac-tion was uncalled for.

Although it has been unable to do anything more than complai-orally, the United States has be-come increasingly concerned about such pro-Soviet moves as these made by Syria: Buying Russian arms, recognizing Red China, re-lying almost entirely on the Rus-sian news agency Tass for outside news and the censoring of the U. S. information bulletin.

Fear Arms Shipments

Defense officials fear that Sov-iet shipments of arms into Syria may be just the beginning of a big flood of weapons into the Mid-dle East Nation. There is special concern in official quarters be-cause the flow is reportedly in-creasing even though the United Nations General Assembly has urged its members not to ship arms to the Middle East.

However, the State Department is gingerly avoiding charging Rus-sia with violating the U. N. resolu-tion.

If the United States tried to make a case against Russian arms shipments to Syria, the Soviets could quickly come back with a countercharge that the United States is supplying arms to Turkey, Iraq and Iran.

Harrisburg Woman's Club Holds Annual Library Tea

Thirty nine members and guests were present Monday afternoon for the library tea and program on literature presented annually by the Harrisburg Woman's club.

Mrs. L. I. Webb was chairman for the afternoon, presenting Mrs. Joe Mortman who gave a beautiful meditation on the subject "The Lord's Leading." Mrs. Herman Davis sang "I Look to Jesus," with accompaniment by Miss Frances Cummins.

Mrs. Webb then introduced Mrs. Roy Milburn, former district pres-ident, who spoke on "What is Lit-erature?" and read excerpts from Irvin Stone's "Love is Eternal."

Mrs. J. B. Blackman was an honored guest, as a member of the library board and a charter mem-ber of the Harrisburg Woman's club who has been most active. She was presented with a beauti-ful white lace trimmed "sissy" blouse by Mrs. J. A. Bottomley in appreciation of her many years of service.

Also present from the library board was Mrs. E. Bishop Hill, president of the club, and Mrs. Charles E. Combe. Specially in-vised guests included Mrs. Roy Seel, Ozark, Mrs. B. B. McPhy-son, Cairo Woman's club presi-ent and sister of Attorney DeWitt Twente, Harrisburg, and Mrs. V. E. Clayton.

A five dollar contribution was made to the Saline County Asso-ciation for Mentally Retarded Chil-dren.

Tea and coffee were served with dainty cookies from a tea table covered with a Christmas red cloth and centered with an ar-rangement of evergreens and can-dies and crystal.

In charge of table decorations were Mrs. Harry Barter, chair-man, Mrs. Otto Arensman, Mrs. T. Y. Gregg and Mrs. Nelle Mey-ers.

Mrs. J. V. Capel and Mrs. Adolph Smith composed the pouring com-tee and the tea committee was made up of Mrs. E. B. Webster, chairman, Mrs. Clyde Pittman, Mrs. Francis Jahn, Mrs. C. E. Wing, Mrs. DeWitt Twente, Mrs. F. N. Russler, Mrs. J. J. Klein, Mrs. F. S. Gray and Mrs. Ed Gas-kins.

Hostesses were Mrs. Phil Dur-ham and Mrs. L. M. Hancock. On Saturday 16 members of the Woman's club were on the coffee hour over station WSIL-TV and Mrs. Hill, president of the club, received a corsage of camelias from White's Flower shop.

At the next meeting of the club, to be held Dec. 10, club past pres-idents will be honored guests and a Christmas party will be held.

Briton Warns Only Communists Gain from U. S.-British Split

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd warned today that only the Communists gain from what he termed the "acute difference of opinion" between Britain and the United States over Mideast policy.

This split seemed to be growing, as evidenced by newspaper editorials sharply critical of the United States interference in British internal affairs and the action of a group of 120-odd Conservative members of Parliament in adopting a resolution declaring that the U. S. attitude gravely threatened the Atlantic alliance.

It was so dangerous that Acting Prime Minister R. A. Butler called a Cabinet meeting to try to restore Conservative Party unity and to avert a formal break with the United States over the Mideast.

Lloyd returned from the United States, where he attended the current General Assembly sessions of the United Nations, with a grim report of the state of Anglo-American relations. He indicated there still was no sign of reconciliation, despite President Eisenhower's statement Tuesday that the Suez crisis had no weakened or disrupted the Anglo-French-American or North Atlantic Treaty alliances.

Asked to comment on the President's statement that the present dispute is only "an incident," Lloyd told newsmen at London Airport:

"There is no doubt we have got to get our policies in the Middle East more closely aligned. The people who are gaining from the present situation are the Communist powers."

Lloyd added grimly that he "hopes" the present situation is "only an incident."

The foreign secretary returned to a Britain highly aroused over what many Britons consider an American double cross against the trans-Atlantic alliance.

More than 120 Conservative members of Parliament signed a resolution Tuesday night attacking the American stand in the United Nations, where the United States voted with Russia and against most of the NATO powers in a demand for immediate withdrawal of Anglo-French-Israeli troops from Egypt.

Bunker named today as President Eisenhower's new ambassador to India.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today named Ellsworth Bunker, retiring president of the American Red Cross, as the new ambassador to India.

Bunker was given a recess appointment, subject to later Senate confirmation, to succeed John Sherman Cooper, Republican recently elected to the Senate from Kentucky.

Meantime, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to comment on press dispatches from London reporting increasing British concern over differences between this country and the United Kingdom over Middle East policies.

Told that British Acting Prime Minister R. A. Butler had called a special Cabinet meeting to avert a formal break with the United States over the Mideast, Hagerty said glumly, "I haven't any comment on it."

Hagerty said today that Bunker, before going to New Delhi in early January, would participate with the President in conferences next month with Indian Prime Minister Nehru who arrives in Washington Dec. 16.

U. S. Accuses Russia of Creating Mid-East Tensions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States accused Russia today of creating tensions in the Middle East by sending arms into the area.

The charge was made by State Department press officer Lincoln White.

He said Russia has sent "substantial shipments" of weapons into Syria in recent months, some of them after hostilities brought on by the invasion of Egypt.

The United States, he said, takes the view that the Soviet move is doing nothing toward relaxing tension in the Middle East. On the contrary, he said, "it is adding to these tensions in the area."

St. Louis Doctor Is Shot During Quarrel with Wife

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dr. Roger C. Arnold, a psychiatrist, was reported in good condition today after suffering a gunshot wound of the left leg Tuesday in a quarrel with his wife, former night club entertainer Kay Loring.

Police said a .22 caliber rifle discharged when the doctor tried to wrest the weapon from the hands of his wife on the stairway of their suburban home.

Mrs. Nancy Tracy, a house guest from Laguna Beach, Calif., said the couple had quarreled bitterly after "a few highballs." At the height of the squabble, she said, Arnold told his wife to "pack her bags and get out."

Mrs. Arnold told police she obtained the rifle from the bedroom of 12-year-old Stephanie Wade, her daughter by a previous marriage.

"I lost my temper but I didn't intend to shoot him," she said. Arnold told officers he could not remember quarreling. He said he would not prosecute.

Unavoidable Accident Ruled In Marion Wreck

MARION, Ill. (AP) — A verdict of unavoidable accident was returned Tuesday night by a coroner's jury investigating a wreck that took four lives here last Friday.

The crash occurred as the driver of one auto pulled out onto the highway from a cemetery without stopping. A semi-trailer truck hit the auto then jack-knifed onto another auto.

The jury recommended that the city of Marion station a policeman to direct traffic after funerals. Last Monday night, the City Council reduced its police force by one man in an economy move.

Long Distance Phone Strike Is Threatened

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for long distance telephone operators and maintenance workers go into a final round of talks with the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. today. A union membership vote authorized a nationwide strike at midnight if no agreement is reached.

A company spokesman said "some progress" had been made Tuesday night in talks with the Communications Workers of America. But Elaine T. Gleason, chief negotiator and president of CWA, said there was no progress.

Bargaining talks, which began Nov. 5, resume this morning.

The contract between the AT&T and CWA expires at midnight.

Red China Premier Visits Nehru

NEW DELHI (AP) — Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai arrived today for a state visit during which Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru is expected to ask him to intercede with Moscow over the Soviet intervention in Hungary.

Chou arrived in Calcutta at noon. Reporters for American news agencies were barred from Calcutta's Dum Dum Airport, despite government accreditation, apparently because they were considered "security risks."

The smiling Chou was welcomed here by Nehru and thousands of Indians who thronged the airport chanting "Hindi-Chini bhai bhai" — Indians and Chinese are brothers.

Wilson Studies Air Force Cut Under 137 Wings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson today was considering how much to cut the Air Force beneath its 137-wing goal. The decision probably will be his toughest in drafting next year's military budget.

The 137-wing goal was set in 1953 as part of the administration's "new look" military program. The goal, under present plans, was to have been reached next June. The Air Force now, however, is resigned to a cut.

Air Force officials, it was learned, presented to Wilson Tuesday a budget for the coming fiscal year that would provide for less than 137 wings. The presentation was made at a budget conference at the Pentagon.

Wilson, at the close of the presentation, was said to have left open the question of whether he will make still further cuts in the Air Force strength goal. He was said to have explained to Air Force officials that he was aware of Air Force needs but also had to consider how big a military establishment the national economy can carry.

The Air Force is spending almost half the tax dollars allotted to the military. How much it gets is a key factor in how large the general defense budget will be, and that in turn, is the key to whether the government's overall budget will balance.

In the current fiscal year, the Air Force will spend $16.5 billion.

Kidnaper Tells of Money Troubles

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP) — Angelo La Marca, trying to explain why he kidnaped baby Peter Weinberger, testified Tuesday that he was harassed by creditors and loan sharks until he "couldn't think."

He takes the stand again today and is expected to tell of the kidnaping itself.

La Marca pictured his financial troubles climaxing a life of wrong breaks as upsetting him so he did not know what he was doing when he took the 32-day-old baby from a carriage last July 4 and demanded $2,000 ransom.

The baby's body was found in a thicket about a half-mile from La Marca's $14,000 home he purchased only last May at Plainview, Long Island.

La Marca testified he had been able to pay only one $116 installment on the house, he owed the builder $700 more, he'd bought a $900 freezer and $500 worth of storm windows and a loan shark was after him to collect $300.

La Marca is on trial in Nassau County court on charges of kidnaping and murder, both of which carry a possible death penalty.

Shorthorn is Grand Champ of Show; Double Win By Exhibitor

CHICAGO (AP) — Attention at the International Livestock Exposition switched from cattle to swine today.

Judges prepared to name the grand champion barrow. Also to be selected were swine breed champions, champions by weights and the grand champion pen of barrows.

Pennsylvania State University scored a double victory in the fat cattle division Tuesday when "P. S. Troubador II" won the grand championship and "P. S. Eileen Mere," a junior Aberdeen Angus yearling, was picked as the reserve champion.

Publication Features Article On Fred Flannell

The McBee Crest, the official publication of McBee's Data Processing Equipment Sales and Service, carries a lengthy story about a former Carrier Mills man in its October issue.

Main story in the publication is about Fred Flannell, 28, formerly of Carrier Mills and now with the Royal McBee Corp., White Plains, N. Y. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Flannell of Carrier Mills and a brother of Mrs. Henry Dewar of Harrisburg.

Flannell, the story points out, is the new director of the company's Scientific Computer division, and he guided 40 agency managers and advertising and sales promotional representatives through the maze of electronic terms and processes at a computer school Sept. 24-28 at the Empire State country club near Spring Valley, N. Y.

The article carries four pictures of Flannell, who holds a master's degree in engineering, one a portrait and the other three different phases of his teaching at the computer school.

The double victory marked the fourth time in the 57-year history of the exposition that both the grand champion and reserve champion were shown by the same exhibitor. Previous double winners also were from college herds — twice from Iowa State College and once from the University of California.

Troubador also was the first shorthorn to take the cattle crown

BOYS TOWN BARROW NAMED GRAND CHAMP

CHICAGO (AP) — Father Flanagan's Boys Town won the grand champion barrow title at the International Livestock Exposition today with a "one-eared" Berkshire hog.

The Berkshire, born with only the stub of a left ear, won out over two other hogs after capturing the title for its weight.

The reserve grand champion-ship of the big farm show was won by 16-year-old Dick Nash, Sharpsville, Ind., with his junior champion Hampshire, Mighty Showboy.

Since 1952, Herman Purdy, who showed his year's champ, also exhibited the previous shorthorn champ at the International Amphitheatre.

Purdy in 1952 raised Ohio's Leader II, the grand champion owned by Ohio State University, before he shifted to Penn State.

Troubador will have a short reign. Thursday he and the carlot champions will be sold at auction in the Chicago stockyards.

Also chosen Tuesday was the grand champion Hereford bull, "Portage Mixer 55," a 1,650-pound junior yearling owned by Portage Farms of Woodville, Ohio.

The praying mantis is said to be the only insect that can turn its head.

Pinckneyville Voters Approve Bond Issue

bond issue here was approved Tuesday by a vote of 549-98. The city was without water from 10 a. m. to 3:10 p. m. due to a $60,000 waterworks improvement water main break.

CHICAGO (AP)—Starting salaries for engineers continue to climb, according to the Illinois Institute of Technology.

The institute said salaries received by its 1956 graduates hit an all-time high.

"Starting salaries are still spiraling," said placement director Earl C. Kubicek.

"This year's engineering graduates are earning an average of $381 per month as compared with the 1955 average of $363."

Kubicek said the average starting salary has increased every year since 1938, when the school began keeping records. Since 1949, when the average was $282, it has risen more than $100.

Electrical engineers receive the highest salaries, $461 per month compared with $416 in 1955.

Chemical engineering starting salaries rose from $365 in 1955 to $424 this year, and civil engineering salaries rose from $380 to $434 in 1956.

The U. S. Army Quartermaster School made its home in Fort Lee, Va., on Oct. 6, 1941.

Wife of Rep. Velde To Get Divorce

PEORIA — U. S. Rep. Harold H. Velde, Peoria, said today his wife, the former Dolores Anderson, is in Las Vegas, Nev., for a divorce action, a newspaper here said.

Velde, former Republican chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, will retire from Congress after his current term ends this year. His wife is his former secretary. They were married in December, 1954, about two years after Velde's first wife died.

Velde, reached at Youngstown, Ohio, by a Peoria Journal-Star reporter, said his plans for the future are indefinite but that he is still interested in obtaining an appointment as a federal judge.

Says Illinois is Lagging in Budget To Attract Industry

BUSH, Ill. — A member of the advisory board of the State Industrial Planning and Development Commission says Illinois is "lagging" in its budget to attract new industry.

Maurice Campbell of Benton hit at the $200,000 budget provided the commission. He spoke before Southern Illinois Inc. Monday night in a meeting at the Southern Illinois Children's Service Center here.

Fred Falkenstein, director of the state commission, said southern Illinois is suffering from its "labor reputation even though it has been proven that southern Illinois has had better labor relations in the last few years than the rest of the state."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Postage stamps pay for the delivery of letters, packages, and other matter. Many people consider this practical use of postage stamps as their only use.

However there are at least two other uses which are well known. The Post Office issues a number of commemorative stamps each year to honor outstanding Americans who have contributed to our heritage, to remind us of inventions, services, historic events and other matters of national interest.

Stamp collecting has long been a popular hobby for millions of people all over the world. Many people invest their savings in postage stamps because of the increasing demand for past issues.

So the postage stamp serves mankind in several different ways at the same time.

People also serve multiple ends simultaneously. They are not limited to three or four areas of concern. While we earn a living in the community culturally, and we worship God in our worldly and spiritual development.

No one can give all his efforts to the material side of life and be even as effective as a postage stamp.

H. L. Motsinger On Deepfreeze USN Construction Job

Howard L. Motsinger, chief driver, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Motsinger, Carrier Mills, left Nov. 5, for the Antarctic with the Weddell Sea Station unit of Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 1, to carry out the base construction work during operation Deepfreeze No. 2. He is the husband of the former Betty Maller of Harrisburg.

"Deepfreeze" is a four year program of Naval support for scientists making studies in the Antarctic during the International Geophysical Year 1957-58.

The battalion will build entirely new camps at the Cape Adare, Knox Coast and Weddell Sea areas. In addition, personnel going to Little America 5 and Naval Air Facilities, McMurdo Sound, will do additional construction at these existing camps and assist in the summer resupply operation.

Upon completion of the construction period in February 1957, the bases will be occupied by wintering over scientists and personnel of the battalion who will carry out the scientific program and maintain the camps.

The battalion has gone through intensive training in cold weather survival and construction procedure during their stay at their home port of Davisville, R. I.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge. Only a bulk laxative can 1) moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to recreate a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONOID, the new laxative discovery relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripe; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

LET'S GET ALL THE FACTS

The routing of Highway 13 is important so let's get all the facts possible before we rush our City Council into a hasty decision either way on this.

Our Mayor and Commissioners want to look after the best interest of Harrisburg as a whole. Let's give them a chance to get all the facts before we insist on them making a decision on this. Answers to the questions below will help us all see more clearly what is best for Harrisburg.

HOW WIDE WILL IT BE THROUGH TOWN?

The state wants 4 lanes for moving traffic plus a divider west of Jackson and east of Cherry so it must require 48 ft. from curb to curb uptown and 52 ft. west of Jackson and east of Cherry. Poplar Street is now 40 ft. wide by the Harrisburg National Bank, and 41 ft. wide in front of the Harrisburg Funeral Home, and 36 ft. 6 in. wide in front of the Methodist Church. So the curbs must be pushed back from 4 ft. to 5½ ft. on each side of Poplar Street. How can this be done and keep the sidewalks wide enough and far enough away from moving traffic lanes to be safe?

WHERE WOULD IT BY-PASS?

We understand it by-passes the business section of Marion and that the right of way has been purchased from Marion straight through to Jordan's Dead Man Curve. We also know that it connects up to the new bridge at Shawneetown. Knowing that we are on a straight line between these 2 points we can't see how the by-pass could help but pass through or near Harrisburg. Every effort should be made to find out as much as possible where it will go through if it doesn't go through Poplar.

WILL THE AMOUNT OF TRAFFIC ON THIS HIGHWAY INCREASE?

We understand that Route 13 has been chosen as a feeder for the Super Highway running from Cairo through Marion on to Chicago. We need to know for sure if this is true and what effect the state Survey indicates it will have on traffic.

CAN WE HAVE AN ALTERNATE CITY ROUTE?

Many towns have an alternate city route so that trucks and through traffic don't have to come through congested town traffic. Would this be a good idea for Harrisburg?

WHICH WAY HAS WORKED OUT BEST FOR OTHER TOWNS?

Herrin, Mattoon, Danville, and many other towns have encountered this same problem. Wouldn't it be a good idea to get a consensus of opinions from businesses in these towns of how it has worked out. The Chamber of Commerce might have comprehensive information on this problem.

SHALL WE MAKE THE SAME PROPOSAL TO BRING HIGHWAY 34 DOWN MAIN STREET THE SAME WAY?

The State and Federal Highway Program is very big so perhaps we can make the same proposal to the State to use Main Street the same way for Route 34. If it is good for one street, would it not be good for another?

ALL REAL ESTATE VALUES CAN BE AFFECTED

The general economic situation in a town greatly affects the value of everyone's real estate so it behooves us all to do what is best for the town's economic condition.

HARRISBURG'S ECONOMIC CONDITION CAN BE AFFECTED

Since Harrisburg has so little industry employment provided by retail stores is a big factor in the employment and economic situation. A great part of our retail trade is from farmers and people from towns in our trading area such as Ridgway, Shawneetown, Cave-In-Rock, Elizabethtown, Rosiclare, Golconda, Stonefort, Carrier Mills, Harco, Galatia, Raleigh, Eldorado, and Norris City. We have to compete vigorously for their trade. We must offer them conveniences if we are to hold their trade and convenient parking is of the utmost importance. The parking problem has been getting more critical for years and is now so bad that on busy days the customers are parking on Poplar Street to the Granger Street intersection and then walking back to town to shop. To partly relieve this situation our Mayor and City Council very wisely leased 2 parking lots recently. They will have space for about 34 cars each and will provide for 8 hour parking—much of this space will be taken by people working uptown; they have to park somewhere. We will soon lose 20 parking spaces uptown due to having to go to parallel parking on the South and West sides of the Square. It figures approximately 160 parking places which will be lost from the railroad on East Poplar to Granger Street on West Poplar, if the highway goes through Poplar as proposed. Allowing an hour average for each car parked, this figures 1280 cars which can be parked during an 8 hour shopping day. Can we afford to lose this much customer parking space? The State Highway Department Survey shows a 50% increase in cars during the next 20 years.

WHICH WAY WOULD BE MORE LIKELY TO CAUSE A SHOPPING CENTER?

The lack of uptown parking space is generally credited with causing shopping center growth.

The possibility of a shopping center growing on the segment of the highway which by-passes Harrisburg has occurred to some; but of course there will be plenty of highway for one to develop on whether the Highway goes through Poplar Street or not.

Trading area traffic might stop and shop but through traffic is very unlikely to do so. If we must make a choice between parking spaces and traffic we need to have the traffic analyzed. What percent is trading area traffic and what percent traffic and parking problems. Danville, Illinois, hired such a firm. Perhaps that's what we should do.

The Mayor and the City Council have invited William McCloud, State Highway Engineer for this district, to a public meeting at which answers to many of the above questions will be available. We think this is a very wise action and advise all who are interested to attend this meeting.
